About us

Citizens Advice Reading Training Services offer a range of training courses for front line workers who provide information and advice to clients as well as courses for managers who want to develop their skills in managing their staff more effectively.

About our courses

Our training includes case studies, exercises and where appropriate, online tools using laptops. Delegates will be given a course booklet to use on the course and to take away for future reference.

If the course you are looking for is not in the current programme or you can't make the course date do contact us to find out about courses later in the year or to discuss further.

Dates and times of the courses are given in the course list and course fees are listed over the page.

Tailored / In house courses

If you would like us to train a group of delegates, tailored to your specific needs, please do contact us to discuss further. We can use our training room (including IT facilities) or come to your location. In house courses are quoted individually but often work out less per delegate.

About our trainers

We are a professional team of trainers who have had many years of direct experience of working in the advice sector and human resource management.

We have worked and trained in both voluntary and commercial organisations and are committed to providing up to date, relevant and practical training.
